Resigns.

Telegraph dispatches from Frankfort state that Esquire L. C. Anderson representing North Middletown magisterial precinct as a member of Bourbon Fiscal Court had tendered his resignation to Governor Willson. The document was accompanied by the application of John J. Redmon, a prominent farmer of near North Middletown, for appointment to the vacancy. Mr. Redmon is known as a staunch Democrat, but in this move on the political chess board it became necessary for Mr. Redmon to have the endorsement of certain Republican influences, back of which is a fight to control the election of the next County Treasurer.

A Good Show for Thursday, January 2nd.

"In Old Yarrow," the big amateur show will be repeated Thursday night, Jan 2nd. This is the show that made such a decided hit here last summer. It will be played by the same cast with one or two exceptions. It will be brighter and better than ever with new songs and choruses. This show is really worth anyone's time and money, as it is far above the average professional play. The cast is made up of entirely local people; the best in town. Show your appreciation of the work of these young people by buying a ticket. You will never regret it. Seats on sale at Oberdorfer's. Receipts of this show will be given for charities, to the poor of Paris who need food and coal for the winter. None should mind giving a Christmas present to such a worthy cause and then besides they get something for their money by seeing a first-class show.

The Best of All.

Remember Thursday, January 2nd, is your last chance to see the biggest and best amateur show in years. "In Old Yarrow" is without a superior.

Set for Hearing Today.

Rich Brooks, the negro, charged with the murder of Bob Thomas, also a negro, near Little Rock on Christmas day, was brought before Judge Dutton and arraigned Saturday. Brooks entered a plea of not guilty. The case was set for hearing today at 10 o'clock a. m.

Reduction in Price of Coal.

The open winter is having the effect of making coal a drag on the market. In the early fall the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, according to their usual custom, endeavored to purchase their winter supply of coal and was met with a big advance, with the result that they declined to buy except a sufficient quantity to meet daily necessities.

This condition continued till the financial flurry in the East struck with cyclonic proportions and coupled with open weather found mine owners short of orders and a surplus of black diamond till they were forced to reduce prices. Last week more than four hundred cars of coal for the Kentucky Central Division of the road arrived in Paris, one hundred of which were unloaded in the big bins in the South yards, the remainder passing through to other coaling stations.

A Happy New Year.

At the stroke of twelve o'clock to night the old year will pass into history and the new—well, what will it have in store for each and every one of us?

The closing week of the old year has been one of good cheer and happy wishes. Gift giving has renewed sentiments of love and friendship and brought mankind to a higher conception of the brotherhood of man. Santa Claus, the unknown and unseen dispenser of gracious blessings, has come and gone. His visitations included the home of the humble and rich alike, where joy and happiness was left in the wake of his footsteps.

The new year will be ushered in to-night will bring hope to us all; hope for continuance of prosperity for the country and for individual health and success. The News has every reason to congratulate itself upon the results of the old year, and hopes to continue a welcome visitor twice a week in the homes of its large list of old subscribers and many new ones. We wish no degree of success that we do not cheerfully and sincerely hope will fall to the lot of every good citizen of this city, county and state. We extend to all our congratulations for a happy New Year.

Have You Seen the Latest Iron Folding Bed?

Here is the Bed
in use as an ordinary Bed.

This shows you the bed partially closed, with the springs turned up and foot ready to fold flat against the spring. This is the most complete Folding Bed made. It is like any other bed, except that it folds. The spring is the famous National Spring Fabric. Come in and see them.

I have just opened a Tremendous Line of Rugs in the new Spring patterns.
